MONICA RODRIGUEZ FOR CITY COUNCIL

Advocating for Working Families

The daughter of a Los Angeles firefighter, Monica grew up in a working family and devoted her life to public service.

As a community leader and former Public Works Commissioner, Monica has a proven record advocating for working-class families.

- Led efforts to create workforce career-training programs,
- Created economic opportunities for small businesses and job creation,
- Expanded affordable housing opportunities,
- Delivered vital city services for Valley families and neighborhoods.

Standing up to Wall Street Banks

During the Recession, Monica created a mortgage protection program to stop Wall Street Banks from foreclosing homes. As a result, thousands of families and seniors were able to keep their homes.

Monica's Plan for the Northeast Valley

Monica has an unparalleled record of experience and results. On the City Council, Monica will fight tirelessly to ensure all of our families can thrive:

- ◆ Make our Streets and Neighborhoods Vibrant and Safe
- ◆ Expand After-School Programs and Job-Training Programs
- ◆ Bring More Transparency and Accountability to City Hall
- ◆ Fight for Equal Pay for Equal Work and Paid Leave Time for Workers
